July 17th, 2025: We've had a clear out of all of the older links that were no longer working, over time, the ones above will stop working too, so hopefully by the time you use them they are still ok!

These links were found on the official social networks of the game, and while they are working will bag you about 25 dice for each link.

When you claim a reward, usually the game will open and you'll see a reward screen like the above.

For more free dice links, check out the official Monopoly GO! social channels, here are the links directly to them:

The free dice links can be difficult to find, and they may not be published every day. If you do find any, use them quick before they expire.

How to get Free Dice Links from Other Players

There are some Discord Groups that set up fake Facebook accounts in order to allow 50 or so people to friend them to benefit from free dice. This method is really good to get a ton of free dice, but you do get capped from using this method too much, but even so, the cap is quite high so you could still bag thousands of free dice if you are prepared to share your Facebook account details.

Other ways to get free dice

We have a comprehensive guide on how to get, these are all of the best tips and tricks as well as all of the usual gameplay methods to legitimately get free dice in the game.

We have seen on other websites and on some Discord and Reddit channels links to a VIP service to get free dice. For the good of the game, it's best to stay away from these, these hacks are not for the game, or fair play, as well as costing you money. There is also a possibility that at some point Scopely will crack down on the use of hacks in Monopoly GO! and start to ban accounts that have used them and VIP services to get free dice.

Free dice links are great ways to get a few extra dice, however, be careful when following links that you don't know where they go to, or from dubious websites. Remember also, that free dice links don't last for long so expect them to expire within a week and not be usable.

When you click a free dice link, what normally happens is that it will open an instance of your game, so do it from the device where you play Monopoly GO! and you'll get shown a screen that details your reward.
